

CLAIMS

I claim:

1. Edible toothpick that can be consumed along with foods that are mounted on it or after the food mounted on it is consumed.
2. Edible toothpick produced from a variety of nuts, fruits, vegetables, and/or grains which add an additional flavor element to foods served with the edible toothpick.
3. Edible toothpick produced in a variety of flavors that add an additional flavor element to foods served with the edible toothpick.
4. Edible toothpick that eliminates cleanup after parties since they are consumed along with the foods mounted on them or after the food mounted on it is consumed.
5. Edible toothpick that virtually eliminates the health and safety issues associated with wooden toothpicks such as contact with germs left on wooden toothpick after they have been inserted inside the mouths of people eating food from the wooden toothpick and younger children being injured when they come in contact with sharp edges of used wooden toothpicks.

BEST AVAILABLE COPY